North County Health Services was awarded Primary Care Partner of the Year for 2014 by the American Cancer Society. NCHS was given the award for its support promoting cancer screenings, increasing cancer screening rates and providing the North County community with access to these services.

In 2013, NCHS provided nearly 800 colorectal cancer screenings to patients from age 50 to 75 at the Oceanside and Ramona Health Centers. NCHS is expanding cancer screening offerings to its Grand Avenue and Carlsbad Health Centers, as well as increasing colorectal cancer screening services in its Oceanside and Ramona health centers.
